Yesterday's foot-ball scores contain many surprises, but none so startlingly unexpected as Princeton's defeat by the champions of last season, conquerors of Yale, who in turn had conquered Harvard, who in their turn had humbled Pennsyl vania, which beat Cornell, have not only

Tale, who in turn had conquered Harvard, who in their turn had humbled Pennaylvania, which beat Cornell, have not only been scored on by the Middles, but have actually been beaten by an eleven regarded last year as second raters.

The humiliation of Princeton is not so much due to the weakness of the Nassau eleven as to the strength and condition of the Annapolis lads. From the very opening of the season it has been apparent that the navy team was much stronger than last year's, which was outchassed by West Point, but it was not thought that so light a team would even come near defeating the heavy Princotonians. Another thing should be considered: Annapolis has reached its best form early, while Yale, Harvard and Princeton never ripen until the last fortnight of play. It may be that the cadets can keep on-edge and be as fit when they meet the army at Philadelphia November 25th, but there is danger that they cannot. In any event, conditions are promsing for a great game between the army and the navy at the season's close.

Harvard had a scare from West Point, winning by a single score, and that a field goal. From this, it appears that West Point, too, is very strong, or that Harvard is unusually weak. The soldlers have been very close to the class of the great university teams for four or five years, but this score emphasizes the squality of the greater and the minor teams. Yale showed a disappointment in her game with Syracuse, this secondrater scoring more than half as manypoints as the New Haven cracks. Columbia's defeat by Amherst is another great surprise. The New York men have been looked upon as formidable, and Amherst was hardly considered in their class, even though the Massachusotts men made a fine showing last year. Cornell showed in strong by defeating the heavy and formidable Bucknell team 24 to 12, whereas Carliale beat the Bucknellans 10 to 4 recently. Cornell has been coached the Indian team of Carlisle, Pennsylvania disappointed its admirers by its small score of 6 to 0 against Brown University, decisive score of 20 to 0. Georgetown's score of 17 to 0 against Vila Nova is none too gratifying to adherents of the Blue and Gray.

In Southern foot-ball the bare victory of the University of Virginia against the North Carolina 'Aggles' shows that Virginia is not as strong as her admirers had believed. The Carolina farmers had harely beaten the Virginia Military Institute by a fluke touchdown October 1st, so that Virginia is apparently not more than one or two touchdown of North Carolina is not yet known. It is not unlikely that the farmers are stronger than the Chapel Hill team. That Virginia Military Institute is not weak is attested by the fact that the naval cadets, who defeated Princeton yesterday, won from the Virginia Military Institute by the small score of 12 to 0, playing at Annapolis. North Carolina University played a 0-0 game with Davidson College a week ago and apparently is like the University of Virginia will be overwheimed by the Indians at Norfolk two weeks hence, and will not outcless North Carolina when they meet Thanksgiving Day, if, indeed, Virginia can win. The Charlottestylle team must make a bettor showing than it has yet made if she hopes to avenge last year's defeat when they meet Thanksgiving Day, if, indeed, Virginia as the virginia Military Institute has the strongest team it has had in years, and the Virginia Military Institute has the strongest team it has had in years, and the Virginia Military Institute is apparently weaker Thanksgiving Day, if the Virginia Military Institute is apparently weaker than for four or five years. It looks now as if the Virginia Military Institute stands a good show to win from Blackshot of the Content of the Virginia Polytechnio Institute is apparently weaker Thanksgiving Day.

'NEW HAVEN, CONN., October 15.—Yale defented Syracuse this afternoon in a sensetional game by the score of 17 to 9. In the two halves here was a complete reversal of play as if two different games were fought out. In the second half, Yale's rush line was dotted, with substitutes which made it casy for the Syracuse team to penetrate for long sales.

Sweeping down the field in the way that Yale usually brushes aside the smaller college elevens, the Syracuse team pushed Yale hack until Burrell scored a touchdown. He failed of goal, however.

About the middle of the first half, Captain Graves, of West Point, made the discovery that some of Harvard's men were wearing aluminum armor over their shins contrary to rules, and after an examination, three of the Crimsons were excused until they divested themselves of the armor.

was superb and had they been able to make any headway through Virginia's line or around the ends, victory should have rested with them.

Time and again they tried to puncture (Virginia's line for the necessary five yards and but for a few spasmodic gains at the opening of the contest, their attempts proved without result.

Virginia scored seven minutes before the close of the first half. Securing the ball on a kick near midfield, a rapid march was started toward the North Carolina goal, and without once losing the ball, Captain Council was pushed over for a touchdown, after successive gains by Purcell, Johnson, Cook and Council.

The play in the second half was almost, entirely in North Carolina's territory, but so strong were the visitors on defensive that they twice secured the ball on downs within their five yard line. A bad pass by Beckett robbed Virginia of another opportunity to score in this half.

For Virginia, Captain Council, Purcell and Yancey showed up well on the offensive, while Beckett, Branch, Johnson, Council and Kite did splendid work in the line. The Wilson brothers were the stars for North Carolina. Frequently they got away for apparently good gains, but were cut down by vicious tackling. Lineup:

mond College root-ball eleven was vanquished this afternoon by the score of 17 to 6 by Georgetown Washington University, formerly Columbian.

Richmond played an aggressive and plucky game, but the difference in the weight of the teams really gave the local collegians their hard fought victory. Time after time, Washington plunged into the Richmond line only to be thrown, and few of the plays of this sort gained much ground.

It was in the backfield plays and end runs that put the visitors out of sit, for the Washingtons worked with concerted activations. The state of the lot, although not one shirked his duty.

Steenerson, the new and heavy quarterback, was the mainstay of the Washington team, and scored the first two touchdowns. Twice Richmond forced their pipponents to punt as they were being held close to their goal, and each time brought the ball out of the danger zone.

Richmond had many friends in the crowd who urged their favorites on in their good work, even though defeat seemed apparent most of the time.

The contest for the 8100 L. C. Smith gun attracted one of the largest crowds of "seatter gun" artists seen this season at an afternoon shoot at West End traps yesterday. All shterest was centered in the race for the handsome Smith gun, which was donated to the shooters of Richmond gun clubs by the Peters Cartridge Company through Messrs. Harris, Phippen & Co., to promote the interest in the all absorbing short-trapshootling.

The race at the end of the first string of fifty targets had narrowed to two men, all other contostants were practically out.

At the end of seventy-five, Young and Robinson were neck and neck, but one bird in favor of Mr. Robinson. In the home stretch Robinson shot the race of his life, having purposely withheld all his nerve until this point was reached.

WINSTON AND LEWIS WIN NO DEMONSTRATION

Local League Again Next Year-Talk of an Athletic Field Near Reservoir.

Street Park vesterday afternoon was not as large as heretofore, but it was en and the results show that the two teams are still close in strength and ability.

The line-up was strong, with the Brownies slightly to an advantage. Winston and Lewis won their games, while fitz, Knowles and Hulcher were the losing pitchers, although it is a question as to whather Hulcher would not have won had he taken up the game on the start. Knowles was hit hard in the first inning, six runs resulting, After that Hulcher held the hard-hitting Imperials down to three runs.

The first gume was the best. It stretched out to eleven impings, when the Brownies' luck loomed up and three runs resulted.

The line-up was as usual with the Brownles-Frost, Bigble, Hicks, Eache, Jones, Knowles, Sharp, McEvoy and Winston.

The Imperials had the following line-up—
McEvoy, Bigble, Hooker, Rose, Boone,
Taylor, Bache, Knightly and Fitz.

The Second Game.

landed on him for five runs, and after the agony was over Hulcher went in, but it was too late, and Lewis held the Brownies down to four runs, while his own team went forward to the further victory of $ to 4.

The line-up in this game was the same as the first, with the exception of the pitchers.

There were no sensational plays, and the season closed with Mr. Duke, the best umpire of the year, officiating, and a goodly crowd of rooters to bid farewell to a most successful base-ball season.

The outlook to the same arrangement as this season, so far as the league is concerned. There is some talk of getting a new purk near the Reservoir, and convenient to both car lines. This matter is now under consideration by people with a general athleto field, for big foot-ball games, base-ball and other outdoor sports and attractions.

With this field the promoters feel that many of the big foot-ball elevens may be brought here for the preliminary games. There will be no State or Eastern League clubs here next season. That is almost certain now. But there will be a strong local league, stronger even than that of the season just closed. The rival representation of the season may see association ball.

In the Twin City League some strong players developed. Fitz, Lewis, Winston and Carle, with Hulcher, are strong enough for bigger leagues, but another year will season them. McLeavy is as good as most catchers in any league, and he has developed into a hard hitter. Frost, Hooker and the Bigbies are progenically and the Bigbies are progenically charged with the criminal assault and murder of Mrs. George Packer, a young white woman, near Clarkton, September 3d, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Judge Ward sentenced the negroes to be hanged on November 18th. The verdict was received with perfect composure by the crowd, which filled the court-room, and thirty minutes after sentence was passed the town was almost deserted. Half an hour before the tinal verdict was reached the jury came in the court-room, and the foreman announced that a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree had been agreed upon. When the roll was called Juror Kelley arose in answer to his name and stated that he could not agree to the verdict. This caused excitement in the crowd, but the slight demonstration was quickly suppressed by the officers. Judge Ward then ordered the jury to retire again. An agreement was soon reached. During the morning a party of twelve armed men rode into town, but they left their guns in a store and made no further demonstration.

The negroes were given a perfectly fair trial. Both were visibly affected when the verdict was announced. In pronouncing judgment Judge Ward congratulated the people of Bladen county on their dataset ence for the law.
